INFLUENZA VACCINATIONS

Protect your employee's health and your organisation's productivity.

The flu is highly infectious and can knock out an entire workforce if people are not vaccinated against it. It can also be deadly. Around 500 people die from the flu in a typical year. If one of your team falls sick with the flu and then goes to work, that person is considered a hazard in the workplace under the NZ Health & Safety at Work Act 2015.

Vaccination vouchers are available through Life Care and redeemable at over 400 sites nationwide.
